URGENT REQUEST TO UPPER SAXONDALE RESIDENTS RISK OF MAJOR ACCIDENT

It has recently come to our attention that an ever increasing number of private vehicles are jumping the red lights at our plant crossing on Henson Lane.

You are putting your life at risk by not stopping at the "stop here" sign, as well as breaking the law which would result in a £60 fine a 3 penalty points.

Our activities here involve the use of very large earth moving equipment which is taking material from Saxondale roundabout to Stragglethorpe junction. These fully laden dump trucks can not stop quickly so you are at risk if you do not stop when the lights are on red.

We are now logging registration numbers of vehicles ignoring the red light and these will be passed onto the Police.

Please can you ensure that this safety message is passed onto all the drivers in your family, any visitors you may have and your neighbours who are not on the Upper Saxondale residents' email list.

We appreciate your urgent co-operation with is matter to ensure the possibility of a major accident is eliminated.

Thank you
